12. [REDACTED] LIAISON Dan Stanton, GAO, called and asked if the Agency's comments on GAO's report of the war crimes investigation would be received by him by the end of the day. I told him that it was still under review and would probably not be sent out until Monday or Tuesday of next week. He read to me a short insert for the summary of the report which explains that the Agency's comments were not received in time to be included. He assured me that he would forward our comments to Chairman Joshua Eilberg (D., Pa.), House Judiciary Subcommittee on Immigration, Citizenship, and International Law, for later inclusion in the appendix of the report as soon as it was received.
